Puerto Caldera • Curu Reserve • Isla Tortuga • Bahia Drake •
Isla Coiba • Golfito • Quepos

How does it feel when everything is perfect?

Source Events invites you to experience the unspoiled Pacific coastline of Costa Rica with its virgin rainforest, whales, wildlife and deserted islands. There are black sand beaches, turquoise waters, emerald rain forests and white faced monkeys.

There is the magical, dreamlike quality of tall-ship sailing. It's the little things on board a Source Events cruise that make you feel as if you're sailing on board your own private yacht.

Like being greeted by name. Having your favorite cocktail delivered to your lounge chair on the deck. With just 148 guests on the 5-star luxury Wind Star, it is easy to find yourself becoming the center of attention.

Full Moon Costa Rica Cruise!

8 Days / 7 Nights

Embarks: Saturday, February 7, 2009 – Puerto Caldera, Costa Rica

Disembarks: Saturday, February 14, 2009 – Puerto Caldera, Costa Rica

Ports of Call:

Curu Reserve: Spend a morning exploring the Curu National Wildlife Refuge—a private reserve of which two-thirds is preserved as primary forest.

Tortuga: Characterized by palm-fringed beaches and lush tropical flora, Tortuga is pretty and peaceful and offers terrific sheltered swimming and snorkeling in warm waters.

Bahia Drake: Lush rainforest in the main attraction. Cross the river on a swing bridge and hike along flower lined paths.

Golfito: The former banana-exporting town of Golfito is your base camp for a day of adventure.

Isla Coiba: One of Panama's National Parks, this gorgeous island has pristine white sand beaches and is your private sanctuary for the day.

Quepos: The town of Quepos and adjacent Manuel Antonio National Park is known as being particularly gay friendly. Lush landscaping, unusual wildlife and a laid-back welcoming scene that is indicative of the entire region.
