Chain Bridge and The Buda Castle at night

Often called the “Pearl of the Danube,” Budapest is the pulse of Central Europe. It’s an enchanting city of vibrant contrasts between Old World opulence and contemporary lifestyles. Known as the finest city of the Habsburg dynasty, Budapest is made up of two separate towns—hilly Buda on the Danube’s western bank and Pest on the eastern side. This is a place filled with historical sights, including Roman ruins, the Neo-Classical Parliament and many famed Turkish thermal baths. Budapest is richly endowed with natural springs of thermal waters that supply the city’s many baths.

Arriving to your destination a day or two early is a great way to assure your timely arrival and to rest before your vacation begins. And with so many beautiful things to do in Budapest, you will want time to explore this beautiful city before embarking on the ship to sail to Slovakia.

Plan to spend one or two days before your cruise exploring the natural baths of Budapest, visiting museums that display the city’s Communist history, walking along the Chain Bridge at night or trying out some authentic local specialties! Note that if arriving on the day of the cruise, there will be very little time to explore Budapest as we depart for Bratislava, Slovakia that evening.
